CAMERON COUNTY OUTDOOR BURNING BAN ORDER LIFTED

On March 29, 2022, the Cameron County Commissioners' Court through the findings, circumstances, and recommendations presented by the Cameron County Fire Marshal, issued a Burn Ban Order for the unincorporated areas of Cameron County.

According to the Local Government Code 352.081, the Fire Marshal, designated for such purpose by the Cameron County Commissioners' Court, has determined that recent weather conditions and drought index changes have improved in the unincorporated areas of the County and the March 29, 2022, Burn Ban Order is lifted and no longer in effect.

At all times, individuals are urged to use extreme caution and obey all local and state laws when burning outdoors. For more information, please visit the Texas A&M Forest Service website at <https://tfsweb.tamu.edu/WildlandFireResponse/>.
