

SpaceX Set to Launch the Starship Flight Test Noise Advisory

SpaceX is targeting as soon as Monday, April 17 for the first integrated flight test of Starship from Starbase in Cameron County, Texas. The 150-minute test window opens at 7:00 a.m. CT.

Residents of Cameron County and those in the nearby area may hear a loud noise resulting from the rocket's 33 Raptor engines firing upon ignition and as the vehicle launches toward space, but what people experience will depend on weather and other conditions.

SpaceX's live webcast will go live approximately 45 minutes before liftoff at spacex.com/launches. Live updates will also be available on SpaceX's social media channels.

###